

This Week At Orwell | Wednesday 24th July 2024

36 places where kids can eat free or for £1 during the summer holidays

We wanted to share a really great online list of 36 places where children can either eat for free or for just £1. The list includes such places as Sainsbury's, Morrison's, and Hungry Horse to name a few. For all the info, please check out the article here.

Kids Summer Holiday iCard - Ipswich

This summer, between Monday 22 July and Friday 30 August, Under 17-year-olds will get access to Ipswich Borough Council's complete summer holiday activity programme for just £6.00 for 6 weeks – that's £1.00 per week! There are over 500 activities taking place across their facilities, parks and other venues from BMX bikes, Junior Kayaks, Rollerskating and much more. For more info and to sign up today please click here for more details.

The Wild Walls Festival

The 'Wild Walls project' will see Art Eat and The Subversiv Collective engage with the 14–30 age range, who will work with established artists to produce new murals and public art interventions around the Ipswich. There will also be Virtual Reality (VR) workshops and a VR exhibition for visitors to experience at the University of Suffolk, print fair, cinema screenings, live art workshops and music events as part of the programme. To get involved, complete the form here.

Kind words from Val

We were pleased to receive a lovely email this week from Val, one of our customers which read:

"Absolutely love these little broadcasts. I am never likely to leave Orwell accommodation because I think you are excellent and caring landlords, but if I do I would still listen to thesethey make me smile! Kindest regards, Val"