

This Week At Orwell | Thursday 12th December 2024

Christmas Recycling | Suffolk Recycling

In readiness for the festive period, Suffolk County Council are promoting ways to be Greener this Christmas. Their dedicated website includes information on such topics as Collection Dates, How to reduce your food waste this festive season, Ideas for reducing waste this Christmas & Get your recycling right this Christmas. Click here to check out the page here.

Handel's Messiah | Ipswich Choral Society Christmas Concert

Ipswich Choral Society will be celebrating their 200th birthday with a performance of Handel's Messiah, this Saturday 13th December, 7pm at Ipswich Corn Exchange in Ipswich. For more information and to book tickets, please click here.

A festive message from the Orwell Gardening Team

Dan and the rest of the Orwell Gardening team have asked us to wish everyone across our communities a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New year. They would also like to thank everyone for their help this year, it has been very much appreciated.

Kind words from Customers

Today we have some kind words from Liv , a colleague in our Development Team in Ipswich wanted to thank Brett in our Comms Team:

"I just wanted to say a big thank you to Brett for helping me with getting all materials ready for the public consultation which is taking place next week. Brett has been very patient and helpful with all my requests and queries, so just wanted to say a huge thank you to him for his hard work! "

Next we have some kind words from a customer about Jack, who works in our customer service team:

"I spoke to Jack, who was as helpful as he could be under the circumstances. He answered the phone politely and in a friendly way so he's doing a grand job".